

Dear Chamber members,

April 24th updates related to COVID-19 and business resources are as follows:

Safely Returning To Work

Yesterday, April 23rd Governor Walz issued Executive Order 20-40 allowing non-customer facing industrial and office workers from non-critical sectors to return to work.

In order to reopen, EO 20-40 requires these business to do three things:

1. Create and share with their employees a COVID-19 Preparedness Plan that explains the actions they are taking to ensure social distancing and keep workers safe. The Department of Labor and Industry has created a template plan, which is optional for businesses to use as a starting point.

2. Engage in health screening of employees each day at arrival

Continue to use telework whenever possible

Click here for more information and guidance.

This video is a traditional blessing that the sisters sing on special occasions and in times of need. It was recorded by College of Saint Benedict President Mary Hinton in 2019. We post it now to let you know that we renew this blessing to you each day.

We hope the members of the Chamber are staying safe and healthy.

Dear St. Joseph Chamber,

Thank you so much for reaching out! I hope this email finds you well and healthy. I wanted to let you know how some of our operations have shifted and what we are doing differently moving forward:

We didn't skip a beat moving to online learning! Our faculty and students were given the opportunity to practice remote classes before we and other area schools closed their doors. While everyone would probably rather be learning together, face-to-face, eLearning has been going well so far.

Our faculty who are members of the monastic community at St. John's University have been starting our days with a virtual Zoom call where we as a community can connect, laugh, and meditate together.

Our production of Fiddler on the Roof has been rescheduled from March 20th – 22nd to August 21st – 23rd at the Paramount Theatre. This way, most of our seniors will still get to participate in the show!

Our last Discovery Day was held virtually on Friday, April 3rd! However, we will be offering more virtual informational events in the coming weeks and months. We will also be adding more content to our website for families who want to learn more in this time when visiting campus isn't an option.

Check out an article that features Saint John's Prep and our transition during these times:

The Central Minnesota Catholic: "Prep students adjust to new routine with help of online prayer, meditation"

How To Help Your Local Community & Economy During COVID-19

As an individual or business, we can all help everyone get through this global crisis

Volunteering

1. Residential Neighbors

Offer help to neighbors: getting groceries/medicine, taking them to doctor's appointments, running errands, etc.

2. Neighboring Businesses

Get together and talk with other businesses. Find out how you can cooperate during this troubling time.

3. Local Food Shelf

Most volunteers are elderly or retired. They're going to need younger people to help out. See if you can be part of the solution.

4. Animal Shelters

Animal shelters are looking for fosters. If you're able to foster right now, that's a big help to them. As they lose staffing and funding, they're not going to be able to care for all of the animals.

5. Spreading Cheer

In many neighborhoods, you'll see chalk on the sidewalks and hearts on the windows. These are great options to spread cheer. Also, businesses are putting up lots of signs in their windows, trying to spread positivity and joy. You can do it too!

Donating

1. Food/Money

$1 goes further at a food shelf. But did you know that just $1 can purchase 2-5 meals for a family? If you're able to support your community food shelf at this time, please do so.

2. Blood

There is a shortage of blood donors. The Red Cross is taking every precaution: checking temperatures of people as they come in, wearing proper PPE, helping donors practice social distancing. There's nothing to worry about when donating. Head to redcrossblood.org.

3. Masks

JoAnn Fabrics is trying to make 100,000,000 masks out of cloth to help healthcare workers. If you're somebody who can donate the materials, skill, and time, head to joann.com, figure out how you can help make and deliver masks.

Purchasing

1. Take-Out/Delivery

Many restaurants and bars are doing delivery/take-out if they haven't outright closed. If you can, purchase take-out and delivery regularly, because that's the only way they make their money right now.

2. Gift Cards

Gift cards are like a no-interest loan to the business. Purchase the gift card now, the company gets that money now when they need it, and then you use it at a later date after they've recovered.

3. Reviews

When you spend money at stores or restaurants, it's more important than ever to leave a review or post about it on social media to inform others that they're open for business.

4. Take-Out/Delivery For Essential Workers

Buy take-out/delivery for first responders, hospital workers, grocery store workers, and gas station workers. These are all essential needs that we have. You can support local businesses while saying thanks.

These are just a few things we can do to help our community and economy at this time
